

Good morning,

How did it get to Friday already, this week has flown past!

We are really enjoying all the challenges you have sent us- from some brilliant videos as 'happiness reporters' to bird's eye drawings and desert island posters- not too late to complete today if you want to!

Remember the mymaths is still available to complete so you can catch up if you have missed a day. I can see that lots of you have completed all the days so far- amazing! Make sure you let me know if you have a problem logging on or are not sure how to do it- we are here to help! Today's task is multiples, factors and primes and you can access an extra challenge at <https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/articles/zfenscw>

English: Today you should be on Day 5 of your writing project (again if you have missed it earlier in the week you can still catch up) Today you need to complete the grammar task on page 14 relative clauses and page 15 sentence imitation (short openers and rule of 3 sentence). It would be great to see any pictures of what you have done so far. Remember there is always time to catch up- work at your own pace.

Next try a wellbeing PSHE task at

Daily Challenge Today's challenge is to build a den- could be in your bedroom, in the garden anywhere- what else can you do in the den? Draw a picture of your view from the den, write instructions for someone else to build it, read a book in it, complete the daily lego challenge in there- the list is endless! Send us a picture of you in your den!

Daily Reminders!

Remember you can also practice times tables at TT rockstars, spag and spelling at spag.com and spelling shed, read for 20 minutes, exercise with Joe Wicks at 9.00am, listen to the interactive radio show at <https://radioblogging.net/> at 9.30am every day. Have a break at 11.00am and try listening to a David Walliams story at <https://www.worldofdavidwalliams.com/elevenses/> or listen to a story like Harry potter and the philospher's stone at audible stories <https://stories.audible.com/pdp/B017V54W6O>

Have a lovely weekend, keep safe and smiling!
