

Wednesday 10th June

Good morning year 5,

Looks like it might be a rainy day, a good day for board games, snuggling up with stories and indoor dens! Also a few other tasks...

English task : In your writing booklet, check you have completed all your 'imitation sentences' (Strangely.... Interestingly..... In addition.....Furthermore.....) Today's task is to complete the next practice pages called 'Write away'- play the sentence starter game to choose what you are writing about.

Mymaths task: Today you need to complete the grouping data task. Here are the support videos to help you.

Question 1 : <https://www.loom.com/share/b52f9ba1ca684dd3a276436ab74c98d2>

Question 2 : <https://www.loom.com/share/4a0b53311b5d4a3189a82685d4648ff1>

Try the practice lesson on the right on your screen and watch the support video before you start the homework task on the left of your screen. Remember you can have more than one try. Often children who get 100% have had 2 or 3 tries- fantastic perseverance!

Topic task: This week you should choose 2-3 tasks to work on. You could try and choose one task from each of the 3 topic sheets if you have time. Some activities will take longer than others so you might find your task lasts you for a few days. Think about the best way to present your work- how can you make it appealing to the person reading or looking at it? Today I have attached an example of a fact sheet about a scientist who became famous for his medical achievements- you could create a similar one about another scientist who has made amazing medical discoveries for your museum. Send in any pictures of your topic work so far so we can celebrate the amazing research you have been doing.

Challenge task: In recognition of national empathy day yesterday, explore the website <https://www.empathylab.uk/empathy-read-aloud> and discover why empathy is so important. You can read a short story, listen to a favourite author read you a story, watch a film clip, complete one of the activities with your family.

Reading: Listen to chapter 7 of the Nowhere Emporium (attached to the email). Your pictures of the main characters in this book were great- keep sending them in.

Remember just email if you have any questions, worries or just want to say hello! Anyone from 5 Shakespeare I didn't speak to yesterday I will be in touch again today.

Have a great day
